Blossoming Connections in Harbor Bluffs

Hello, Harbor Bluffs Neighbors!

March brings a fresh season of sunshine, longer days, and that unmistakable feeling of renewal—and this issue captures that spirit beautifully. We're thrilled to feature Dale and Nancy's family, whose story reflects the warmth, history, and strong connections that make Harbor Bluffs such a wonderful place to call home. Their feature is a reminder that it's the people around us who truly shape our neighborhood.

This month is also a perfect time to connect in person, so be sure to save the date for Neighbors Night Out at Wildflower Café on March 11th. It's a great opportunity to relax, meet new neighbors, and enjoy an evening of good food and great company—we hope to see you there!

A heartfelt thank you goes out to our sponsor of the month, Jenergy Air Services, for their continued support of Stroll Harbor Bluffs. Because of sponsors like you, we're able to share these stories, celebrate our neighbors, and strengthen the sense of community that makes Harbor Bluffs so special.

Here's to a March filled with connection, conversation, and community spirit!

With gratitude,

Devin

Raising Relief Foundation Presents: The Denim & Diamond Gala

The Raising Relief Foundation's Denim & Diamond Gala, held this past November at the Sheraton Sand Key Resort, was a truly unforgettable evening—filled with generosity, celebration, and an incredible sense of community. This spectacular event brought together neighbors, business leaders, and philanthropic partners for a night where elegance met heart and purpose took center stage.

Guests embraced the signature denim meets diamonds style while enjoying delicious cuisine, lively entertainment, dancing, and exciting silent and live auctions. The energy in the room was undeniable, and the impact was even greater—making this year's gala a record-breaking event for the Foundation.

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to our Presenting Sponsor, the Forward Foundation, and to all of our sponsors whose generosity made this evening possible. We are also deeply thankful for the overwhelming community donations and the incredible attendance that helped make this year's Denim & Diamond Gala one of our most successful to date.

This foundation would not exist without our volunteers. The Raising Relief Foundation is 100% volunteer-run, and every dollar raised goes directly back into the community. Thank you to our incredible volunteers whose time, heart, and dedication make everything we do possible.

If you would like to learn more about the Raising Relief Foundation, how we help the community, the programs we have spearheaded, how to become part of our volunteer team, or if you would like to donate, please visit raisingrelieffoundation.org or call me directly at 727-657-9615.

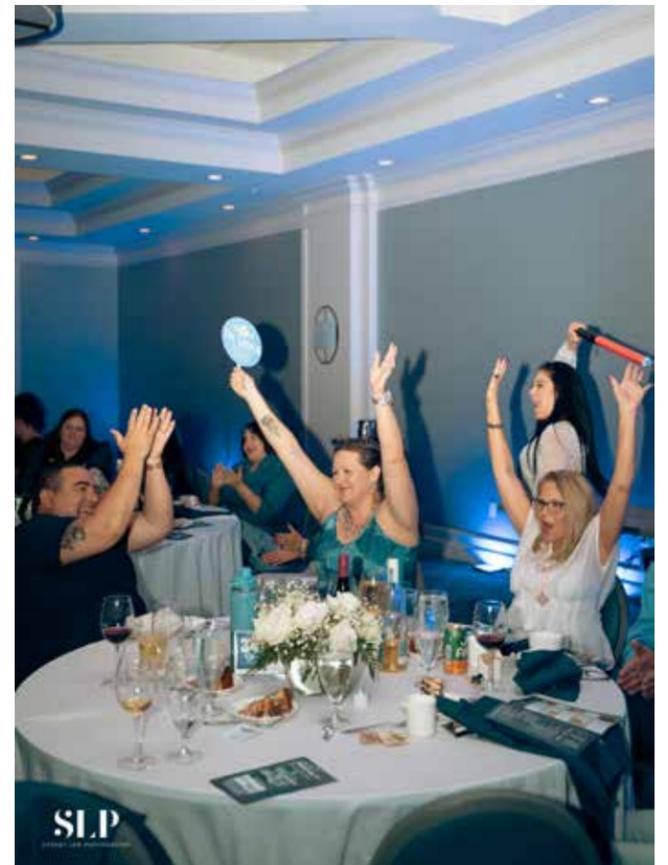

Thank you to everyone who attended, sponsored, donated, volunteered, and supported this incredible night. Together, we are making a meaningful difference in our community.

Dale & Nancy's Family: Faith, Fun, and Florida Sunshine

Met Dale, Nancy, and their grown children, Morgen (30) and Ana Marina (28). This close-knit family has built a life filled with laughter, adventure, and deep-rooted traditions that celebrate both faith and fun.

A Story That Began at Stetson University

Dale and Nancy's story began at Stetson University, where both served as Resident Advisors. Their older brothers were best friends at Stetson too. They all played every intramural sports and were active in campus life.

The two also come from a legacy of athletes: Nancy's parents both played competitive sports and founded Seminole Lanes and Sunrise Bowling Lanes, while Dale's mom was a water skier at Cypress Gardens who climbed to the top of the iconic pyramid.

Ten years after graduation, fate brought them back together when Dale spotted Nancy's VW convertible on the highway and flagged her down — a moment that rekindled their connection. They eloped soon after, and 35 years later, they're still doing life side by side.

Family Traditions That Bring Everyone Together

The family is big on traditions. From Meatloaf Monday and Taco Tuesday to Fish Friday lunches with Grandma Krauss (age 94) and Pizza Friday dinners, meals are a time to pause for prayer, connection, and gratitude.

Holidays are especially meaningful, featuring German Christmas Eve dinners, Lindt Advent calendars, and even a one-of-a-kind Easter metal-detecting hunt for silver and gold eggs at the beach.

Lifelong Learners and Adventurers

Education runs deep in the family. Both Dale and Nancy graduated from Stetson University, with Nancy later earning a graduate degree from Tufts and Dale completing Command and General Staff College with the Army. Their daughter Ana Marina also followed in their footsteps, becoming a proud Stetson alum.

When they're not working, the family embraces the outdoors — surfing, kayaking, fishing, and exploring Florida's natural beauty. Favorite hangouts include Morgan Park, the Botanical Gardens, and Florida's scenic springs. For dining out, VIPs and Sardos top their list.

Morgen and Ana Marina: Making Their Mark

Morgen works at The Silver Queen in Belleair as a greeter and docent for the new museum. When he’s not reading about economics, philosophy, and politics, he enjoys taking long walks “for health and wealth.”

Ana Marina lives in Washington, D.C., where she works in politics. She loves hosting dinner parties and cheering on Penn State football with her fiancé, Riley Compton.

A Love for Community and Connection

The family has called Harbor Bluffs home for nearly six years and loves the serene views that remind them daily of God’s handiwork. They stay active in the community by participating in neighborhood stroll nights, the Clearwater Jazz Festival, coastal clean-ups, oyster rejuvenation projects, and veteran support programs.

Nancy also shares her artistic gifts by teaching art classes at Pinecrest, and the family attends Grace Family Church together.

You’ll also find Nancy enjoying time with her neighborhood book club, affectionately called “Book Beaches,” where good reads mix with friendship and laughter.

A Few of Their Favorites

Vacation Spots: North Georgia Mountains for Thanksgiving, Key West for lobstering, and European excursions whenever possible.

TV & Movies: The Harry Potter series — a family favorite that began with midnight book releases and continued through every movie premiere.

Relaxation: Pool time, yard and art projects, and quiet moments with a good book.

Their Favorite Thing About Harbor Bluffs

“The view,” they agree. “Everywhere you look is a perfect piece of God’s creation.”

“Everywhere you look is a perfect piece of God’s creation.”

MEET OUR PHOTOGRAPHER

Sydney Lewandowski

HELLO EVERYONE! My name is Sydney Lewandowski and I am so excited to be the new photographer for Stroll Harbor Bluffs. I was born and raised in Buffalo, NY (Go Bills) and moved to Florida in August of 2023! I grew up with family in Indian Rocks Beach my whole life, and I absolutely love the area! I went to college for Visual Media where I specialized in photography, graphic design, and marketing! My love for photography comes from my love of people and capturing memories that will last a lifetime for my clients, whether that be a romantic couples beach session, documenting big moments for graduating seniors, or headshots for your websites and business cards! Graphic design is a way for me to take the ideas in my head and bring them to life. I love working with clients from projects big to small to fit your business's needs. I also work in the fine art field, making custom wall murals, handmade clay earrings, and textile wall art! Being an artist is my pride and joy and I am so ecstatic for this new journey with Stroll Harbor Bluffs! I look forward to meeting all of you and can't wait to get creative!

FOUR PAWS ON THE JOB: Loco, A Sponsor Pup's Perspective

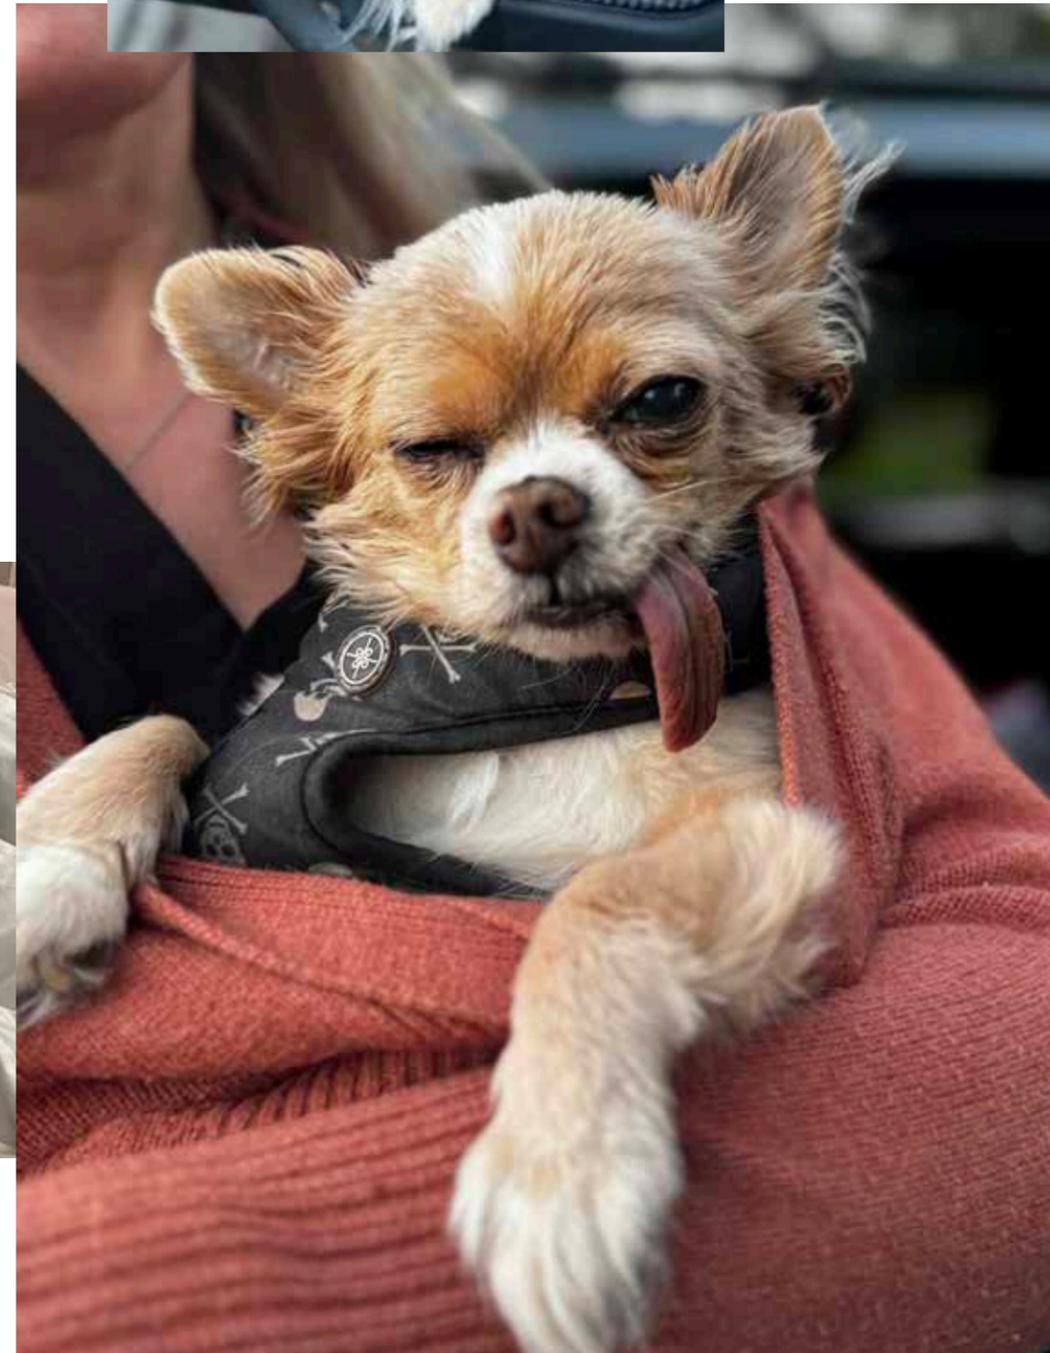

BY JEWELS CHANDLER

Hello, and welcome to Onyxx Wellness and Aesthetics at 1000 Lakeview Road, Suite 3, in Clearwater. My name is Loco. I am a 13-year-old, long-haired Chihuahua, and the receptionist at my Mom's (Whitney Vanater) business. I enjoy meeting and greeting our clients as they walk in the door.

My tongue sticks out of my mouth because I am missing some teeth; because of that, my tongue gets dry. Mom will put drops of water on it to keep it moist. I wonder if she were to inject some Botox into me, if that would help me as it does our other clients. Their tongues don't hang out. I know I would retain my youthful appearance... Hmmmm,

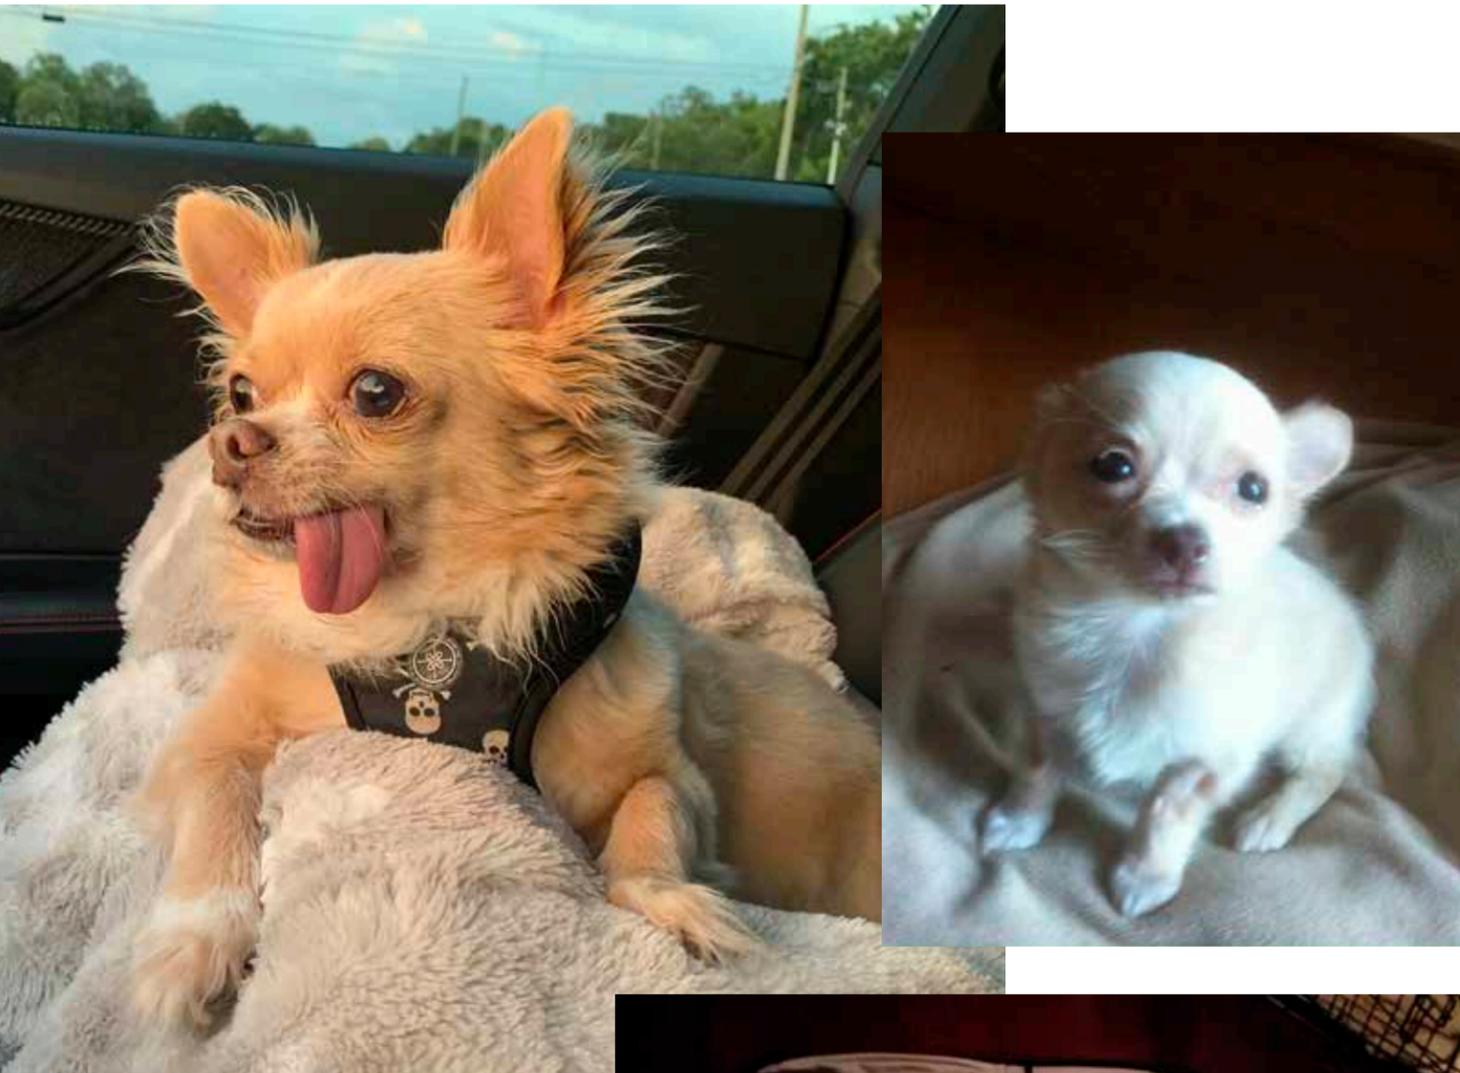

I do want to drop a few pounds, so maybe Mom can inject me with Semiglutide to cut out the food noise, because I do enjoy veggies, fruit, and chicken (no dog bones or dog treats for this guy)! The clients love how Semiglutides work, so maybe she can give me some. She is, after all, a nurse since 2006.

Since I am getting older, I should find out if Mom can give me Hormone Replacement Therapy. Both women and men benefit from it, so why not dogs? While she is at it, I may ask about Male Performance Enhancement (wink, wink). Onyxx has many tried-and-true aesthetic and wellness items for our clients, and I would like to see more dogs benefitting from them... Just saying! If Mom says she will not treat me, I will chase my tail, which is what I do when I get angry. Clients think it is cute, but Mom knows the real reason.

I love working in the office, sitting in the "big boy" chair at the front desk, and also taking breaks on my fluffy blanket or doggie bed. My aunt Taylor does not like me in what she calls "her chair," and especially working on the computer. We have a love/hate relationship, but I know she adores me. Who wouldn't? Cheryl walks in the door and snuggles with me, but if she waits until after seeing a client, I will snub her so she will learn a lesson.

When I am not helping out at the office, I love going for walks, riding in my stroller, and taking naps. Mom says I snore like a loud human, but I doubt that! I adore snuggling with my Mom (she is pretty cute). She certainly knows my name but sometimes calls me Loco Butt, Butthead, or even my little dude.

I'm ok with that—especially if we are snuggling—as long as I am not being left alone... THAT I do not like at all!

Well, it's time for another nap, so before I go, I would love to meet you at Onyxx, so come in and say hi. I can't talk, so you will have to speak with Taylor or Cheryl — (727) 238-8003. We have so many aesthetic and wellness options for you to choose from, but my Mom is the best, and you will be treated like an old friend when you walk in the door. I promise not to lick you.

If you are one of our fabulous sponsors in Stroll Harbor Bluffs or BeLocal, and you have a pet Mascot, contact Jewels, who would love to feature you both in print. (727)743-1708 or jewelsc2004@yahoo.com

What Are Peptides?

AGING BACKWARD IS A THING! And peptides turn the signals back on in your body to do just that!

Many people have heard of peptides, but don't know much about them.

WHAT'S A PEPTIDE?

Peptides are small chains of amino acids and are pre-cursors to proteins. They act as messengers, regulating cellular processes like hormone balance, tissue repair, and muscle growth. They can have anti-inflammatory and antioxidant properties. Some improve bone density and promote better sleep. They can help with improved skin elasticity, wound healing, and hair growth. They help improve athletic performance, muscle recovery, strength, promote fat loss, improve cognitive function, and a lot more.

There are many different peptides that offer different benefits for different things.

For this article, I'd like to focus on a really popular one—the fountain of youth—used often for aging in reverse: GHK-Cu, the copper peptide.

GHK-Cu: This peptide binds to copper, promoting skin regeneration, wound healing, and collagen production, making it a popular choice in anti-aging skincare and hair growth (yes! Eyelashes and eyebrows too!).

Levels of GHK-Cu decrease with age, making supplementation attractive for rejuvenation. (BEFORE/AFTER PICS – results may vary) – Real clients, real results.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON PEPTIDE SOURCING:

It's important to know where your peptides are coming from. There are a lot of online companies that sell them, and this is where you need to beware:

When compounded by a legitimate 503A or 503B compounding pharmacy, they fall under FDA oversight and are subject to sterility, potency, purity, and endotoxin testing, even though some may not be FDA-approved.

The concern arises with peptides purchased from non-regulated online vendors, which are not required to meet these standards. In addition, they lack batch tracking or recall capability. For injectable therapies, sourcing through a licensed compounding pharmacy ensures appropriate quality control, safety testing, and provider oversight.

Turn the signals back on to help your body do what it was designed to do!

For more in-depth information, or to schedule a complimentary tele-medicine consultation, call or text our clinic today!

I am Stephanie Scudiero, a board-certified family nurse practitioner, and I specialize in aging well. By balancing your hormones, reducing inflammation, and turning the “signal” back on, I can guide you through the process!

Tropical Coconut Paloma Recipe

Spring is here ya'll!!!!

It's time to put a little passion into your glass. This cocktail was created on a whim by Brian, hoping to impress his cocktail-loving wife... And spoiler alert: he absolutely nailed it.

Ingredients

- 2 oz coconut rum
- 1 oz passion fruit juice
- ½ oz fresh lime juice
- 3-4 oz Fever-Tree Sparkling Pink Grapefruit
- Lime wheel or fresh grapefruit wedge, for garnish

Directions

1. Add coconut rum, passion fruit juice, and lime juice to a shaker filled with ice.
2. Shake until chilled.
3. Top shaker with Fever-Tree Sparkling Pink Grapefruit.
4. In the shaker gently stir to incorporate without losing the bubbles or making a huge mess.
5. Serve in a wine glass over ice.
6. Garnish with a lime wheel or fresh grapefruit wedge.

Here's to chasing sunshine, one sparkling sip at a time.

Cheers.

Love,

Jenny & Brian

The Hatchett Family: A Clearwater Legacy

John and Lulu Hatchett arrived in Clearwater around 1910, leaving McIntosh, Florida, in search of opportunity and stability for their growing family. By 1918, John's World War I draft card listed him as an employee of Dean Alvord, the visionary developer behind Harbor Oaks. John later became the first Black Field Foreman for Bilgore Groves, a position of rare authority for a Black man in early-20th-century Pinellas County.

Lulu worked as a housekeeper for a prominent Harbor Oaks family who wintered in Florida. For nine months each year, the Hatchetts lived in a home on Orange Street built specifically for them by Lulu's employer. During the summer months, the family returned to their own home at 212 S. Greenwood Avenue in the Heights, a thriving, self-sufficient Black neighborhood with its own theater, barbershops, restaurants, and community life. Paul Hatchett later recalled fishing in a small pond on Ewing Street and growing up in a neighborhood where families looked after one another and children were expected to excel.

Lulu instilled in her five surviving children—Hattie, Sampson, James, Paul, and Joseph—a fierce commitment to education and personal integrity. When John died in 1949, Joseph promised his mother, "If you let me stay in school, I will make you proud." Paul remembered that his teachers checked on students even during the summer and that there were three things he was forbidden to do: "carry a fruit sack, caddy on a golf course, or go to poolrooms." The message was clear: their future would not be limited by the constraints of segregation.

Joseph Hatchett

James N Hatchett

The Hatchett children attended Pinellas High School, Clearwater's all-Black high school on Palmetto Street. Each day, they walked past the all-White Clearwater Junior High and Clearwater High School—an everyday reminder of the "separate but equal" system that shaped their early lives. Yet Paul later reflected that despite hand-me-down books, "we were able to learn," crediting the dedication of teachers who served as role models and instilled perseverance.

After graduation, the Hatchett children carried their mother's expectations into the wider world.

Judge Joseph W Hatchett

Hattie attended Florida A&M University for three years before marrying Vern Borden. She died young in 1951.

Sampson became a chef for the Peekskill, New York, school system and returned to Clearwater after retirement.

James graduated from Lincoln University in 1949—the same institution that produced Thurgood Marshall—and later worked for the Pennsylvania State Welfare Department.

Paul earned a degree from Hampton Institute and later from Florida A&M. He served as a Navy Seabee in World War II and the Korean Conflict, then spent twenty years with Pinellas County Schools. In 1954, he taught the first Driver's Education class for Black students in the county at Gibbs High School, one of only two such programs in Florida at the time. Paul went on to leadership roles at Clearwater Federal, served on the Clearwater Civil Service Board, chaired the Pinellas County Housing Authority, and held a seat on the St. Petersburg Junior College Board of Trustees. In 1980, he was appointed to the Clearwater City Commission.

Joseph earned degrees from Florida A&M and Howard University School of Law, graduating in 1959. Because the Dupont Plaza Hotel in Miami was still segregated, he and a classmate were forced to stay in a "Negro hotel" while taking the Florida Bar Exam. Joseph served in the Army during World War II, then built a law practice in Daytona Beach, where he advised Civil Rights protesters and filed lawsuits to desegregate public facilities. He once joked that he "shouldn't have cashed one check" he received from Sammy Davis Jr. to support the movement.

Paul Hatchett,

Paul Hatchett

Joseph Hatchett's legal career broke barriers at every level.

- In 1966, he became the first Black Assistant U.S. Attorney in Florida.
- In 1975, Governor Reubin Askew appointed him to the Florida Supreme Court. His mother, then 92, witnessed his swearing-in.
- In 1976, he became the first Black justice to win a statewide election in Florida.
- In 1979, President Jimmy Carter appointed him to the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals—the first Black federal appellate judge in the Deep South.
- When the Eleventh Circuit was created in 1981, Judge Hatchett continued his service there, ultimately becoming Chief Judge before retiring in 1999.

In 1996, Paul and Joseph returned to Clearwater for a Pinellas High School reunion. Reflecting on their journey, Joseph said, "Coming from Pinellas High certainly hasn't hurt me any. The teachers were role models and taught young Black students perseverance." He added, "It was my civics teachers who taught that society could change through the operation of the law."

From a modest home in the Heights to the highest courts in the nation, the Hatchett family's story is one of determination, dignity, and the transformative power of education. John and Lulu, who arrived in Clearwater with little more than hope, lived to see their children break barriers that once seemed unimaginable. Their legacy continues to inspire generations.

MEET THE WOMAN BRINGING COMFORT, COMMUNITY & CONTAGIOUS ENERGY TO TAMPA BAY

Jennifer Gianvito is the powerhouse behind Jenergy Air Services, a woman-owned HVAC company built on expertise, heart, and—true to its name—infectious energy. A Seminole native who has lived in Pinellas County nearly her entire life, Jennifer's deep community roots are evident in everything she does.

Jennifer's family is a big part of her story. She and her husband, Ricardo Gianvito, make a true team. While Ricardo works a corporate job, he's always ready to jump in when Jenergy needs him—whether that's maintaining the company's fleet, passing out Halloween candy at community events, attending Chamber of Commerce dinners, or even starring in a commercial in his Jenergy Air shirt. Their children, Logan and Cierra, also keep life lively. Cierra, 25, is an aspiring professional singer many readers may recognize from her multiple features in *Stroll, while Logan is a senior at Seminole High School, proudly charting a path far away from HVAC.

Jennifer's professional journey is rooted in hands-on experience. Before launching Jenergy Air Services in 2015, she worked in nearly every corner of the HVAC industry—dispatching, managing, training technicians, and eventually finding her passion in sales and home consultations. She loves getting to know her clients, their families, and even their pets. Her dedication to mastering the trade led her to become a licensed HVAC contractor in 2022, further solidifying her expertise.

What truly sets Jenergy Air Services apart is its approach to customer care. As one of the few women-owned HVAC companies in the area, Jennifer has built a team focused on education rather than pressure. From the first phone call to a technician visit or full system installation, customers are met with friendly, knowledgeable professionals who prioritize comfort and clarity over high-pressure sales tactics. The goal is simple: a genuinely enjoyable and stress-free experience.

Jennifer is also deeply invested in strengthening the local business and nonprofit community. Eight years ago, she founded Seminole Happenings, a Facebook group that has grown into a 100,000-member community and sparked the creation of the Seminole Happenings Business Alliance, now supporting 140 local businesses. Watching those businesses grow has become one of her greatest joys. In addition, Jennifer and Ricardo recently launched the Seminole Lake Rotary Satellite Club, raising funds and volunteering time for local charities.

She also serves as a board member for the Raising Relief Foundation, supporting impactful initiatives throughout the community.

For Harbor Bluffs residents, Jennifer offers valuable insight when it comes to home comfort. She emphasizes that modern HVAC technology offers more options than ever—especially systems designed to reduce humidity and lower energy bills. Variable-speed compressors, properly sized systems, and high-quality indoor air solutions can dramatically improve comfort, eliminate hot and cold spots, reduce odors, and even change how temperature feels inside the home. In Florida, she says, humidity control is everything—and the right system can make your home feel completely transformed.

As for the name Jenergy, anyone who meets Jennifer quickly understands it. Her contagious enthusiasm, love of music, passion for fitness, and natural talent for connecting people define both her leadership style and company culture. At Jenergy Air Services, having fun, taking great care of customers, and leaving a lasting impression aren't just goals—they're the standard.

Heaven Sent: Angels Have Paws

BY JEWELS CHANDLER

Geo is a cute 5 month old Maltese puppy, who belongs to Lily and Roy Esposito on Live Oak Lane. Geo is as cute as they come, and is coming into his own self. Mom jokes and calls him Yogi because he is very flexible, bending himself in positions to fit his nickname.

Geo's biggest fear is thinking when he sees Mom or Dad getting dressed that he will be left at home. I was told Geo will be a traveling pet, so being home alone will be on'y on rare occasions. (I bet Lily will try to sneak him into her bag when going to church) Right now, while Geo is young, the crate is where he hangs out when alone.

Being creative with keeping Geo safe, Lily and Roy wedged pillows under the entertainment cabinet to puppy proof the wiring. He is, after all, still a puppy and loving to explore his surroundings.

When outside, Geo loves to run around and it looks like he is hopping like a rabbit. He gets up on his hind paws and jumps into a hop. Mom and Dad never let him in the yard by himself, however, because there is a hawk who flies around the neighborhood.

Lily and Roy had a Maltese before and loves the breed and how much they love to cuddle. The breed originates from Italy and their sole purpose is for companionship. Dad made a homemade toy with a string on it and Geo loves it. Lily was a little jealous that Geo seemed to be bonding with Dad more than her, but after a few weeks CONTINUED ► of Geo in the house, he bonds more with Mom.

To see Lily look at Geo brings a smile to me, as she is filled with such love for him. Her face lights up. He truly brings her the joy she was missing when the family's previous dog Boo Boo passed away unexpectedly. Deeply grieving, Lily had no plans to get another dog, but when a friend called two weeks after beloved Boo Boo passed saying there was a puppy available from the same bloodline as Boo Boo, she felt it was a sign from God and decided to get him. You can clearly tell it was the right choice. Her smile when looking at him tells it all. Geo is her new pride and joy from above.

Boo Boo, not forgotten can never be replaced, but Geo fill the void, and Lily believes that God sent an angel...a four legged, white fluffy angel.

We miss you Boo Boo!

PET INSURANCE: Protect Their Health & Your Finances

Pets are family, and pet insurance helps ensure they receive the care they need without financial stress. Pet insurance is a simple reimbursement-based plan that helps cover veterinary expenses when the unexpected happens.

Key benefits include:

- Customizable coverage options (coverage percentage & deductible)
- Optional add-ons such as:
 - Wellness visits
 - Vaccines
 - Dental care
 - Medications and more
- Freedom to choose any licensed veterinarian (no networks)

Important to know:

- Most plans exclude pre-existing conditions
- Coverage is best secured while your pet is young and healthy
- Rates vary based on age and care needs

- Senior pets may benefit from enhanced plans with additional exams and lab work (like Zeus)

I offer Fetch Pet Insurance, providing flexibility, choice, and peace of mind. Unexpected accidents or illnesses can cost thousands—smart planning helps protect both your pet's health and your pocketbook.
