HAPPY FATHER'S DAY

The sun is shining, the Mariners are above .500 (at least as I write this!), and Father's Day is just around the corner.

For years now, my monthly trips to Vancouver, Washington to visit my parents have included a Saturday morning tradition: breakfast made by my dad. He always cooks up way too much, but somehow, I manage to finish every bite. It's a meaningful ritual—and one I especially appreciate since I'm not the one doing the cooking!

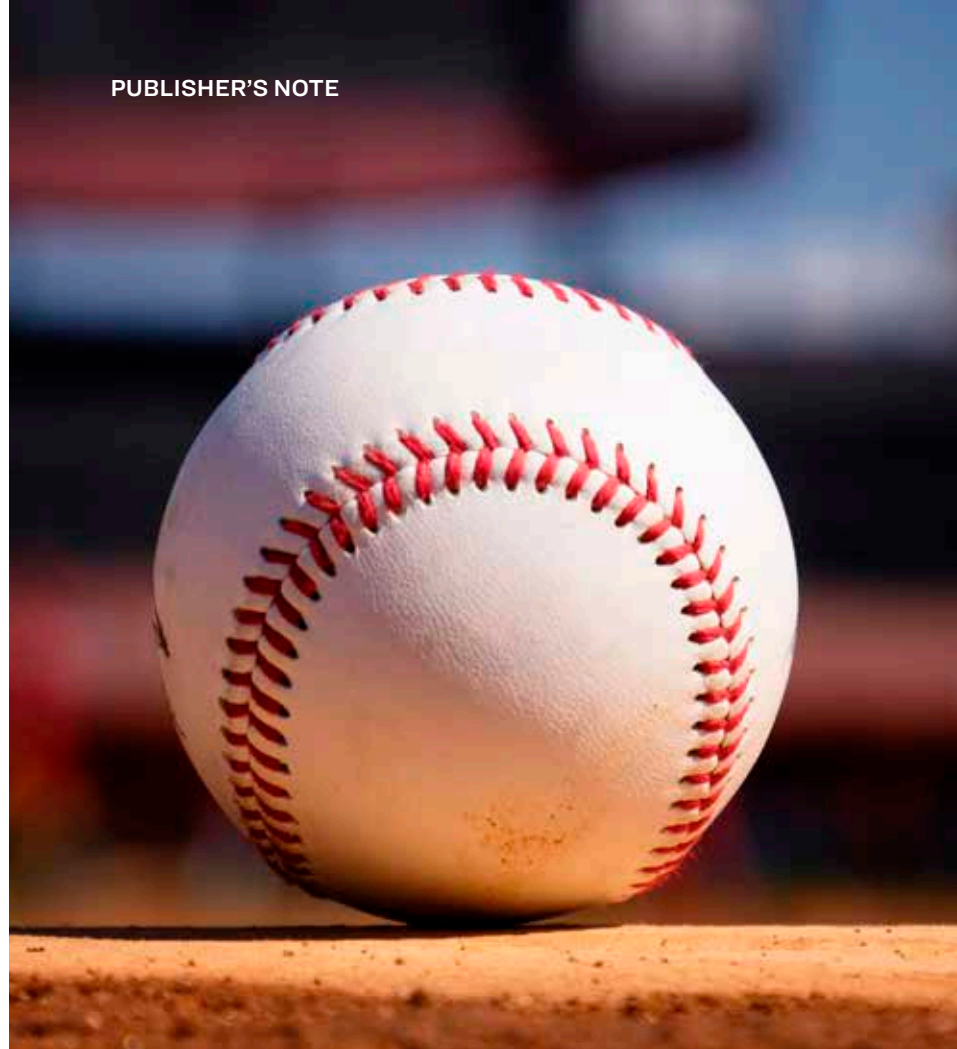

Here's to all the dads, grandfathers, and father figures out there who create lasting memories through the simple joys of tradition.

Go M's!

HEALTHY LIVING

Hydrate the Happy Way

Summertime hydration can be easy and refreshing with these simple, flavorful alternatives.

BY SHAUNA OSBORNE, NATIONAL EDITOR

When summer turns up the heat, staying hydrated can start to feel like a full-time job. Luckily, it doesn't have to be boring! If drinking enough water is a struggle, try switching things up with delicious, nutrient-rich options that support your body and help keep thirst at bay. These creative, feel-good ideas will keep you cool, energized and happily hydrated all season long.

TRY INFUSED WATERS.

Think of infused water as hydration with a twist. Adding fresh ingredients like fruit, herbs or even vegetables can make plain water more appealing. Try combinations such as cucumber and mint, lemon and ginger, or strawberry and basil. Let it chill in the fridge for a few hours, then sip and enjoy.

BREW HERBAL ICED TEA.

Naturally caffeine-free herbal teas, such as chamomile, hibiscus or rooibos, are great served over ice. They're hydrating, calming and easy to prep in large batches. Add lemon slices or a sprig of fresh mint for a flavorful boost.

EAT YOUR FLUIDS.

Snack smarter with water-rich foods. Many fruits and vegetables — like watermelon, strawberries, cucumbers and oranges — are more than 90% water. They're perfect for staying hydrated while adding nutrients to your day.

CRACK OPEN A COCONUT (WATER).

Coconut water is packed with natural electrolytes like potassium and magnesium, making it a smart option after exercise or sun exposure. Just check the label to make sure it's free of added sugars.

FREEZE YOUR FRUITS.

Homemade popsicles are a creative way to cool down. Blend your favorite fruits with water or coconut water, pour into molds and freeze. The result? A refreshing, low-sugar treat the whole family will love.

BLEND A SMOOTHIE.

A smoothie made with water-rich fruits, leafy greens and a hydrating base — such as almond milk or coconut water — can be both satisfying and refreshing. Add a handful of ice for extra chill, and toss in chia seeds or Greek yogurt for texture and protein.

Daily charging to 80% is ideal for most EVs and can help prevent battery degradation.

Those who can charge at home may see electricity costs up to 50% lower than at fast-charging public stations.

Plug In, Pay Up

An EV can lead to long-term savings, but the financial benefits depend on purchase price, charging access and driving habits.

BY SHAUNA OSBORNE, NATIONAL EDITOR

Electric vehicles (EVs) are gaining popularity, but are they truly a cost-saving investment? While they promise lower fuel and maintenance costs, factors like upfront pricing, charging expenses and long-term reliability significantly impact their overall financial picture. Here's a closer look at the numbers.

Upfront costs and depreciation

New EVs remain more expensive than their gas-powered counterparts, though prices have dropped reasonably in recent years. Used EVs, however, present a more affordable entry point, with many available under $30,000. Depreciation is another factor — early EV models saw rapid value loss, but as technology improves, resale values are stabilizing.

Fuel and maintenance savings

Electricity is generally cheaper than gasoline, translating to long-term savings on fueling costs. EVs also require less routine maintenance, with no oil changes or complex engine upkeep. However, their tires tend to wear out 15 to 20% faster than those on gasoline-powered cars. The added weight of battery packs puts more stress on tires, while the instant torque of electric motors leads to quicker wear. Battery replacements can also become a major financial consideration over time.

Charging costs and infrastructure

Charging expenses vary by region, with electricity rates fluctuating across states. Those who can charge at home may see lower costs compared to public fast-charging stations, which often have higher rates. Access to reliable charging infrastructure is also a consideration, especially for those without a dedicated home charger.

Incentives and tax credits

Federal tax credits of up to $7,500 for new EVs and $4,000 for used models can offset initial costs. Eligible buyers may choose to apply the credit upfront at the dealership rather than waiting until tax season. State and local incentives, such as rebates or reduced registration fees, can provide additional savings, though restrictions may apply. Income and price caps determine eligibility. For more information on evolving policies, see afdc.energy.gov/laws/ev-tax-credits.

- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Adopt A Shelter Cat Month

SUBMITTED BY SUMMIT VETERINARY
REFERRAL CENTER

With June being National Adopt-a-Shelter-Cat Month, here's a few tips regarding shelters and adopting/rescuing pets. Thank you for considering adoption!

GOOD TO GO

Adopting a pet from a shelter, rescue group, or Humane Society is one way to ensure you're starting off on the right paw, or foot! Most pets adopted out are already spayed/neutered, microchipped, and up to date on their vaccines. Some even come home with their first bag of food, toys, or a litterbox setup. Even if your adoption fee is a few hundred dollars, this is still a great deal!

RESCUE VS. ROADKILL

When you adopt or rescue a pet, you're saving them from a dangerous life on the streets! A warm bed, routine meals, and love and affection make for a much better life than inclement weather, no shelter or home, and lack of resources like food and water. Adopt and save a life!

SAVE SPACE

Giving a pet from a shelter a new life with you means that's one more space that's available for another pet in need. With most shelters and rescues at or near max capacity, making room for more incoming animals needing care and homes can be very difficult at times.

WHERE CAN I ADOPT?

Here are a few shelter and rescue organizations around us if you're interested in adding a new furry member to your household:

- The Humane Society for Tacoma & Pierce County – Tacoma, WA
- Oakbrook Cat Rescue – Lakewood, WA
- Metro Animal Services – Puyallup, WA
- Sunny Sky's Animal Rescue – Puyallup, WA

Down:

1. rub and knead the body
4. an aim or desired result
5. the ability to live a longer, healthier life through proper self-care
6. the body's process of repairing
7. manipulative treatment of misaligned joints
8. relax after a period of work or tension
11. a state of complete physical, mental, and social well-being
13. the state of forming a complete and harmonious whole
14. bring back; reinstate

Across:

2. the act of keeping your body moist
3. small protein chains that help with healing, recovery, and anti-aging
6. give new energy or strength to
9. the process of providing or obtaining the food necessary for health and growth
10. the branch of philosophy that deals with the principles of beauty
12. make new again
14. restore a youthful appearance to
15. comes after winter
16. service for the face skin
17. eliminating toxins for a refreshed body

Big Changes at St. Clare’s: New President, New Energy, New Goals

SUBMITTED BY RESIDENT ANNE LINDQUIST

From a young age, Matt Metsker was drawn to science. What started as a passion for marine biology shifted and a career in health care was set into motion around his twelfth birthday. He was inspired by his father, who transitioned from business to become an Emergency Medical Technician and firefighter in Gig Harbor, the community they called home. Following in his father’s footsteps, he too wanted to serve his community.

Fast forward to today, Matt is rounding out his first year as president of St. Clare Hospital. Yet, his relationship to the hospital dates back to nearly 20 years ago when he joined Virginia Mason Franciscan Health (VMFH) as a hospitalist and completed rotations at St. Clare.

“This is a full circle moment for me,” reflects Matt. “The team then talked about how St. Clare was the best place to work, with the most collaborative atmosphere and staff who all looked out for each other. I found this to be true when I worked there years ago, and it still is to this day.”

Matt went on to hold such roles as Advanced Practice Provider co-director of the Franciscan Inpatient Team (FIT), and the site medical director and section head for hospital medicine at St. Anthony Hospital in Gig Harbor. He spent the past five years leading VMFH’s Mission Control and Virtual Hospital operations, turning them into hubs of efficiency and progress.

With these nearly 20 years in roles across VMFH, Metsker, along with Chief Medical Officer Dr. Kim Moore and Chief Nursing Officer Mimi Johnson, RN, MSN, MHA, sees hospital leadership through a clinical lens. He has set out to build on St. Clare’s long history of serving the community, and he continues to enhance and modernize the hospital’s offerings to best serve Lakewood.

Metsker and the talented St. Clare team have already made great strides over the last 12 months to meet this goal.

EXPANDING SPECIALTY SERVICES

Building on core inpatient and outpatient services, the St. Clare team has made a number of enhancements to bring even more needed care to the community. For example, the team began performing CT calcium scoring, which is a valuable study for patients with established or suspected heart disease.

Keeping outdoor spaces clean, safe, and odor-free is essential
—and that’s where we come in!

Tacoma’s trusted pet waste removal service, providing reliable, eco-friendly solutions for clean yards, parks, and communities.

Residential Dog Poop Removal • Commercial Pet Waste Management • Yard Deodorization & Sanitation • Pet Waste Station Installation & Maintenance

The hospital continues to lead regionally in outpatient orthopedic surgery, specifically robot-assisted total joint replacement. They also increased outpatient endoscopy and colonoscopy from one day to five days per week; and now offers weekend outpatient MRI and CT scans for patients, as well as continuous renal replacement therapy in the critical care unit. In the future, the team hopes to explore mammography, DEXA scanning for osteoporosis and other upgraded MRI services.

MODERNIZING THE OPERATING ROOM, OTHER FACILITY FEATURES FOR PATIENTS

The operating room (OR) has been updated from floor to ceiling and is now home to a new Mako SmartRobotics system for joint replacement. The team will soon have a DaVinci soft tissue robot for general, urologic and gynecologic surgery. Patients will continue to see other hospital upgrades as they walk the halls of St. Clare.

QUALITY AND SAFETY AT THE FOREFRONT

St. Clare recently earned an “A” grade and was recognized as Washington’s only top teaching hospital by The Leapfrog Group, a nationally renowned quality and safety benchmark. The hospital was recently recognized with a five-star rating from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), and earned the Healthgrades Critical Care Excellence Award in 2024. Even with continuous high-quality marks, the St. Clare team remains dedicated to continuous improvement. The team is currently using the Virginia Mason Production System (VMPS), a model used across VMFH and in hospital systems worldwide, to evaluate and improve the patient experience from pre-operation to recovery, which directly ties into the OR modernization underway.

ONGOING COMMUNITY COMMITMENT

With a team of nearly 700, St. Clare is a top local employer and long-standing community partner, supporting such local initiatives as the Lake High School Photography Contest, Habitat for Humanity Build Day, American Heart Association Heart Walk, Communities in Schools, Lakewood YMCA, Nourish Repacking events, Summer Fest, Farmers Market, Chamber of Commerce, Fiesta de la Familia, the Lakewood Multicultural Coalition and more. In addition, the hospital provides more than $2 million in charity care each month.

“As we look ahead, we are excited to continue growing with this community and doing what we love: Providing exceptional patient care,” said Metsker.

When Matt isn’t onsite rounding and working alongside his team, you can find him spending time with his wife and three daughters skiing, paddle boarding and building elaborate LEGO models, a pastime the whole family enjoys.

VMFH is an integrated health system serving the Puget Sound region, including 10 hospitals and nearly 300 care sites. Founded in 1891, VMFH embraces its long history of caring for the most vulnerable, especially the poor and underserved, and meeting the evolving healthcare needs of the vibrant, diverse communities it serves. # THE LITTLE FREE PANTRY

SUBMITTED BY RESIDENT CHUCK HELLAR

Many people not familiar with service clubs might think that they only do large projects, such as the children's playground and the pavilion at Fort Steilacoom Park, built by the Lakewood Rotary Club. However, that is only half the story. Along with our efforts to help low-income students get into good universities by awarding scholarships to 10-15 high school students each year, the Lakewood Rotary also has the Little Free Pantry (LFP)!

During the 2020 pandemic, Lakewood Rotarians Bob Zawilski, Rose Stevens, and Sally Porter Smith heard about a program called Little Free Pantry that was active in some other communities. After some inquiries and investigating, the Lakewood Rotary began its own Little Free Pantry program with the slogan, "Take What You Need, Give What You Can." The goal was - and remains - to provide 24-7 barrier free access to food and hygiene items, such as toothpaste, baby diapers and wipes, toothbrushes, etc. These Little Free Pantries are accessible 24-7, unlike food banks, but to be clear, they are a supplement, not a replacement, to the food banks, which are constantly doing a wonderful job.

At the beginning, several members such as Bob Zawilski, Rose Stevens, Barlow Buescher, Greg Horn, Chuck Hellar, Steve Mazoff, and others began strategizing how to get this project off the ground quickly. One member reached out to his church and Little Church on the Prairie became a collection point, with its parishioners giving generously. Then an athlete asked Crunch Physical Fitness if they would help collect food and they graciously and eagerly said yes. So did Lakewood Power and Light, which has become a pantry of their own, i.e. people bring food to Lakewood Power and others take what they need. A few of our members receive donations from organizations and individuals that wish to be anonymous.

Another great active pantry is at the Lakewood YMCA, where a lot of food is donated by some members and taken by other members in need. We cannot forget the Steilacoom Public Works Department which receives food from Safeway on a weekly basis to be distributed to Little Free Pantry locations.

Now, what has the Lakewood Rotary itself brought to the table? Over time, we have established over 12 Little Free Pantries in Steilacoom, Lakewood, Springbrook and Tillicum. A couple of them did not last and presently there are 3 pantries in Tillicum, 2 in Springbrook, 2 in Lakewood, and 1 at the Steilacoom Community Center. We are always looking for new locations to expand our reach and better serve the people in need in your neighborhood.

The Lakewood Rotary is very thankful for the contributions of the Christ Lutheran Church and its parishioners for their overwhelming support of their weekly donations. What a great partner. We are also grateful for the partnership with the Lakewood Lions Club, which has volunteered to fill the 2 LFP in Springbrook for two months each year, May and November.

It is so heartwarming to talk to the recipients of our efforts. Comments such as, “Thank you for this food, I do not have a can opener and therefore cannot eat some donated food but what you provide is wonderful!” or “It is great to see you again, and thanks for all you do.” or “Without your help, I am not sure how I would be able to feed my children.” It is so gratifying to know that our efforts are appreciated.

We are still looking for places to put up additional pantries. Some of the places that need a pantry are the south side of Bridgeport Way in Springbrook, along Steilacoom Blvd by Fort Steilacoom Park, and near South Tacoma Way between 84th and 72nd Streets.

This is a wonderful activity, and we encourage anyone that is interested in helping with it, please contact Bob Zawilski at zawilski@comcast.net or 253-389-1516. You may also contact any of the following Lakewood Rotarians who are on the Little Free Pantry Committee. Rose Stevens, Terry Roarke, Steve or Anne Enquist, Teena Hyde, Joel Vranina, Lia Knight, Steve Mazoff, John Lowney Mark Blanchard, Barlow Buescher, or Chuck Hellar. We hope to hear from you.

Masters Builders

WRITTEN BY KAI CURRY

“I love turning dreams into reality. The feeling you get when the project is complete, and the homeowner sees their new kitchen, bathroom, home addition, or accessory dwelling is priceless.”

These words from Bill Piltz, owner of Master Builders Construction Northwest LLC (MB NW) fill any potential client with instant confidence. It’s good to hire someone that loves what they do. Bill Piltz is one of those people who has been running his own business in the construction industry for over a decade. As his business has grown, he has taken special care that his (at this time) eight employees “share the same passion for construction and making homeowners happy” that he does. MB NW operates in Tacoma and the South Puget Sound. They specialize in kitchen remodels, bath remodels, home additions, “and more.”

“Quality craftsmanship and customer satisfaction is in our DNA,” they say. “We offer a wide range of services from design to permitting to building.” MB NW can be your one-stop shop for new construction or remodels for one room or for your entire home. In addition to that already mentioned, they also do garage conversions, accessory dwelling units (or ADUs) – separate living quarters that are on the same property as your primary home – full home renovations and custom homes from start to finish. “We are very flexible when it comes to new projects,” Bill says. “We like to work with homeowners to meet their vision, with budget in mind.” At MB NW they will provide you with very detailed estimates that breakdown labor and materials for every aspect of the project” so that there is no need to worry about hidden costs or project aspects that you don’t understand. And they are mindful of your pocketbook: “We will work with any homeowner to find a way to make their budget work,” Bill assures.

Bill started in the industry as a youngster in Spanaway, where he grew up. He started framing portables, or portable homes, when he was at Spanaway Junior High around the year 1990. “After high school, I went directly into the trades and eventually found myself working as a superintendent for a large home builder,” Bill tells us. “When the housing market crashed in 2008, I had a choice to leave what I love doing and find something else or try starting my own business.” Guess what he chose? “I decided to open my own company.” MB NW was born.

The first few years, expectedly, were spent building relationships so that customers would refer MB NW to their friends (“We strive for referrals,” is one of their business values). “We pride ourselves on our attention to detail, use of premium materials, and dedication to meeting our clients’ needs. Our mission is to enhance the beauty, functionality, and value of your home through our expert services.” They consider themselves a family-owned business who work hard to fulfill their values of “integrity, transparency, and customer satisfaction.”

Bill has been married to his “amazing” wife Mary for 17 years. They have two kids, Bill Jr. and Alannah. Bill’s favorite activities outside of work are “spending time with the wife and kids and watching football.” He has kept his business small so that they can continue to give customers that personal touch and deliver “quality projects with fair pricing.” If you have a home project in mind, Bill advises that you always get at least three estimates. Don’t automatically go with the cheapest offer, he urges, and “stay away from contractors that have vague estimates” because “a vague estimate typically means there are hidden costs.” We hear you, Bill, and understand!

“We were very happy with the job that Master Builders did,” comments satisfied client, Marina. “They made sure everything was done the right way with all licensing approvals, etc...Bill really listened to my vision, and worked well with all of my ideas...” Marina was pleased that MB NW took no shortcuts and that they were even respectful of her choices for sourcing of materials. “We were thoroughly impressed with the quality of work,” says Anni. “Bill and his crew were easy to work and communicate with. We would definitely use them again.”

If you can dream it, MB NW can build it. They are a premier general contractor dedicated to providing exceptional service and results.

THE LOST GARDEN OF LAKEWOOD

To cross the iron-and-stone entryway to Lakewold Gardens is, in many ways, to step through time. The grounds look much as they did in the mid-twentieth century, thanks to the enviable green thumb of then-resident Eulalie Wagner, who often partnered with landscape architect Thomas Church.

But before Mrs. Wagner, another family called this place home. And before there was Lakewold, there was Inglewood.

What did Inglewood look like? Who designed it? And how much of their beloved garden still exists, today? The answers lay in typed letters, faded news clippings, and black-and-white photographs from the early 1900s that reveal the life and times of another Lakewood family: the Alexanders.

Emma Alexander purchased part of the land that would become Lakewold in 1908. By 1914, her family had fully immersed in life on Gravelly Lake. Many a warm afternoon was spent on their boat or in the garden, often in the company of their beloved dogs.

By 1918, Emma's son H.F. Alexander and his wife, Ruth, purchased the adjacent 5-acre property—creating the 10-acre site known today as Lakewold. Around this time, the famed Olmsted Brothers were commissioned to design a neighbor's garden. It's unclear if they also consulted with Emma. Either way, Inglewood earned its share of high praise in the papers.

Save for a few features that remain, Inglewood has largely been lost to time. The iron-and-stone entryway is one lasting trace. Another, the stately brick walk. Then, as now, it led from
